

Brand Protection

Last Updated: Jan 10, 2022

High-value fashion brands and pharmaceutical producers are especially at risk for counterfeit and grey market fraud. To combat this risk, NXP’s RFID and NFC solutions can help to ensure that brand owners, supply chain partners and consumers are able to verify the authenticity and integrity of a product. NXP’s broad product portfolio delivers a reliable and seamless performance across various reading ranges—proximity, vicinity and long-range—tailored to customer-specific needs of security.
